

FORMER WIFE TESTIFIES AT MURDER TRIAL

Charge 2 With $11,700 Sandoval Bank Robbery

Takes Stand
In Travelstead
Case at MarionFirst Witnesses
Tell of Shooting
In Tavern May 3

MARION, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Moore, former wife of Leon Travelstead who is on trial here for the murder of his wife, Jean, 26, May 3, testified today that Travelstead told her he was going "to do away" with himself and "take Jean with me."

Mrs. Moore said Travelstead called her at her West Frankfort home the day of the murder and asked her to "come down and get my things" to give to their oldest daughter. She said the 37-year-old Marion truck driver said he was "broke and ruined" and wouldn't need his possessions "where I am going."

Mrs. Moore said "I told him I didn't want to get mixed up with Jean and he said 'she won't be there, I'm taking her with me.'"

The state also called policemen Herman May of Marion and William Willis of West Frankfort who picked up Travelstead at Mrs. Moore's home after the shooting.

The trial opened Thursday night with seven witnesses testifying that Travelstead shot his wife in a tavern here on May 3.

The trial began after a jury of 10 men and two women was picked after four days of questioning 105 veniremen.

Among the witnesses Thursday were Chris Caras, owner of the tavern where the shooting occurred, his wife Mary, and five patrons of the bar at the time of the shooting: Esco Cogdill and his wife, Flossie; Marion; Luther Dale, Harrisburg; and Esther Ludwig and Christine Wicks, both of Marion.

Caras told how he wrestled with Travelstead for the .38 caliber revolver after the Marion truck driver fired six shots at his wife, one of which wounded her in the abdomen.

Arrested at Former Wife's Home
Caras and his wife testified that Travelstead pointed the revolver at the tavernkeeper and "clicked it" after shooting Mrs. Travelstead.

Witnesses said Travelstead fled the tavern after Caras hit him on the head with a bottle. Travelstead was arrested later at the home of his former wife in West Frankfort.

The state's witnesses all testified the couple had been sitting quietly at the bar for about 30 minutes before Mrs. Travelstead, who had started action for a divorce, was either pulled or pushed from a bar stool to the floor. The witnesses said Travelstead stood over his wife and fired at her as she rolled and twisted in an effort to get away.

Earlier in the day Travelstead, who was the father of four children by his previous marriage, and Mrs. Travelstead visited her lawyer's office where Travelstead agreed not to contest the divorce action.

Youngdahl Studies Plea to Disqualify Himself in Lattimore Perjury Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Judge Luther W. Youngdahl took under advisement today a government plea that he disqualify himself from presiding at the forthcoming perjury trial of Far Eastern expert Owen Lattimore.

Youngdahl listened impassively for almost an hour while U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover, in a courtroom packed with lawyers and spectators, charged him with bias and prejudice against the government. Rover, a short, balding man with a booming voice, frequently punctuated his remarks by waving his arms and pounding the table with his fists.

"The government wants a trial before an impartial judge," he said. "We seek no more and are entitled to no less."

Although Rover argued that the defense had no right to express itself in today's hearing, Lattimore's attorney, former government trust-buster Thurman W. Arnold, called the government's move "an outrage" he said was "without precedent in American jurisprudence."

Lattimore in Court
Lattimore sat with the spectators toward the rear of the courtroom. He was accompanied by his wife.

Rover based his charges of prejudice on statements made by Youngdahl when, in May, 1953, he struck down four counts of a seven-count perjury indictment against Lattimore. The counts dismissed by Youngdahl included the controversial "key" count which charged the former Johns Hopkins University professor with lying when he denied being a "sympathizer or any other kind of a promoter of Communist interests."

All the charges related to Lattimore's testimony before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee early in 1952.

After the U. S. Court of Appeals upheld Youngdahl on the key count, the government obtained another indictment charging that Lattimore lied when he said he never followed the Communist line or promoted Communist interests.

Referring to Youngdahl's dismissal of the key count in 1953, Rover said the judge had interjected his own personality into the case, using "astounding language" in his opinion.

Speaking of Youngdahl's reference to the danger of encroaching on freedom of belief in America, Rover termed the words "a gratuitous insult to the government of the United States."

"The government is not trying to put Lattimore's mind in a strait-jacket; we are trying to convict him for lying under oath," Rover roared.

Arnold called Rover "the most sincere man in the world." But, Arnold added, "he always thinks an opinion against him is biased because he is so sure he is right."

"I think what Mr. Rover wants to do is muzzle this court," Arnold said, "not only this judge but others..."

Disclosure of the depth of the disagreement which threatened to topple the free world's latest plans for European defense was made following a tense two-hour meeting of the French Cabinet.

The squabble over the postage-stamped territory on the border between the two nations ballooned into a crisis which now overshadows Allied agreements reached on all other major issues.

Mendes-France was grim as he emerged from the Cabinet session. Pall of Gloom

His statement threw a pall of gloom over the otherwise smooth progress of negotiations here. Only Thursday West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had beamingly predicted that all the accords—including the settlement of the Saar—would be signed Saturday.

All arrangements for the signing ceremonies were completed. But today the traditional enemies of Europe declared themselves apart on the Saarland issue—less than 24 hours before the scheduled hour for signing the series of pacts to which Europe's defenses and United States and British policy in Europe are pinned.

So serious was the Saarland hitch that one French spokesman said: "There are 30 items on paper after three days of negotiations with the Germans, but each side has a different version of each."

The French spokesman accused the Germans of attempting to stall a Saar agreement so that France would be blamed again for blocking Western defense.

German officials denounced several undisclosed French proposals as "entirely unacceptable," and privately accused the French of attempting to blackmail Germany by threatening to withhold German independence.

Both nations appeared in a difficult and rigid position. Adenauer, at a morning conference with members of his government coalition and leaders of the opposition Socialist Party, announced that all five major West German parties—including the Socialists—had agreed in principle on the German position.

Mendes-France said the French Cabinet is just as determined in support of his position.

The big point at issue was said to be a German demand that the Saar hold new elections before a referendum is taken on any accord reached at Paris, and that German political parties be given full freedom to participate.

The United States, in an effort to avoid a last-minute deadlock over the Saar, promised to support any accord the two reached on governing the border area.

Captured by Officers Hour
After HoldupGunmen Entered
Bank Just Before
Closing Thursday

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—The FBI charged two men today with the $11,700 robbery of the First National Bank of Sandoval, Ill.

FBI agent Percy Wyly said that William C. Higgins, 35, Trenton, Ill., and Truman Corcoran, 30, Grand Rapids, Mich., were identified by bank employees and other witnesses in a police lineup Thursday night.

Both were to be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner here today, he said.

Higgins was identified as the gunman who robbed the bank Thursday and Corcoran as the driver of the getaway car.

They were captured an hour after the robbery as they sat in the Palace night club in Sandoval, not far from the robbery scene.

Wyly said the loot found in Higgins' car would be counted today.

The gunman entered the bank shortly before closing time and asked for the manager. When cashier Harry Todd walked from behind the counter, the bandit pointed a pistol, held out a sack, and ordered the cashier to fill it up.

Todd said he dumped bills into the sack from the cashier's drawers. A count showed $11,700 was missing, he said.

The gunman ran to a waiting Cadillac and sped away. Witnesses got the license number and police found the auto registered in Higgins' name. Higgins told police he was an advertising salesman.

The Palace night club, where the two men were seized, was only a few blocks from the bank.

A state patrolman, Oran Jones, said the Cadillac parked outside the club an hour after the robbery. Local, state and federal officers moved in to make the arrest.

FHA Suspends
11 Employees
For Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration has suspended 11 employees for "improper activities" and officials indicated the suspensions resulted from an administration demand for "adequate standards" of employee conduct.

The employees were not identified. But a spokesman for the FHA said the suspensions are not connected with the "windfall profit" cases turned up in the investigation of the housing scandals that have rocked the agency.

There was strong indication that the action grew out of a secret administration memorandum issued last spring and made public Thursday which called on all government agency heads:

"...to see that adequate standards of conduct have been established, that these were being periodically reviewed, and that responsibility was centralized for re-evaluating and following up complaints and information from all sources."

The memo also required officials to report their personnel actions to Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes by last Sept. 1.

Hughes and Civil Service Commission Chairman Philip Young said in a joint statement that "serious irregularities in the Federal Housing Administration pointed out the desirability" of having federal officers review their standards of conduct. They added that the memorandum "has served its purpose."

Price Squeeze
Will Continue,
Farmers Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government economists told the nation's farmers today not to expect a letup in the price squeeze next year and predicted both income and expenses would edge downward again.

In a carefully-worded annual report, the Agriculture Department said farm prices should average "moderately lower" next year in the face of continued high production prospects.

It said production expenses also may show a "slight decline," chiefly from lower labor costs.

This means that farmers' net income in 1955 "should approach" that of 1954, the report said. Net income is money left after operating expenses are paid.

The report said 1954 net income is estimated at 12½ billion dollars—down 6 per cent from last year.

It said further reductions in wheat and cotton acreage next year because of federal crop control programs should drop total farm income—cash receipts from marketings—"somewhat under" this year's estimated $30,200,000,000 level.

This year's total is expected to be down 4 per cent from 1953, including a 2 per cent drop from last year in livestock returns and a 6 per cent drop in field crop returns.

The report said consumer incomes and consumer spending are expected to remain "fairly stable and may increase some." It said domestic demand, as a result, is expected to continue "at least as good as in 1954."

It said foreign demand for United States farm products—bolstered by a billion-dollar surplus disposal act—"may well show some improvement from the reduced level of the last two years."

Nevertheless, it said that "with prospects for continuing large supplies in 1955, the index of prices received by farmers may average moderately lower than in 1954, about at the level of this fall."

'Wishful Thinking' Has Led to Rise of Communism, Dinner Club Speaker Says

"Wishful thinking on the part of the United States and its Allies has led to the rise of communism and brought about the loss of China and cost us victory in Korea," Dr. No-Yong Park advised members of the Southern Illinois Dinner club last night.

Dr. Park, Manchurian born, Korea educated and with a Ph.D. from Harvard, gave his views on the Far East in an address at the Kurtz country club, which was enjoyed by a capacity crowd at this, the first of a series of fall and winter meetings.

Dr. Park stated the present split in the world between democracy and communism cannot continue indefinitely. Unless a dynamic leadership in the U. S. reunites the world, communism will, he said.

Should "Walk Alone"
He said he believes the U. S.

should "walk alone" in the Far East as its European Allies are looked upon with suspicion as colonial powers by the Asiatics.

Dr. Park stated that up to now the U. S. and European Allies have not realized the importance of Asia which has two-thirds of the world's people.

Russia, he said, realized from the first that the road to Paris leads through Peiping and has spread communism through the Far East.

China, he said, must be regained to prevent the fall of all the Asiatic nations to Russia.

He listed the following steps to prevent world domination by Russia and the fall of Asia to communism:

1. Recognize the importance of Asia.

2. Study the Far East problems. He pointed out that the scholars and teachers in the past devoted most of their time to small European nations and ignored the vast territory and great number of Asiatic peoples. He said this trend had been changed and America today is realizing the importance of Asia.

No Co-Existence
U. S. leaders must get rid of the "wishful thinking" that democracy and communism can exist together peacefully. No effective countermeasures are possible, he said, until we realize co-existence is impossible.

The U. S. made a mistake in quitting the war in Korea without total victory, Dr. Park stated. By doing so, he said, this nation lost face and are victims of Red propaganda that we were defeated by the communist "second team."

He said we halted fighting without total victory because of the "wishful thinking" that a quick peace was possible, and we feared that a knockout blow to the Chinese communists would bring Russia into an all-out war. He said this fear was groundless because at that time Russia feared our stockpile of atomic bombs.

"There is no hope of a lasting peace," Dr. Park said, "until measures to halt communism are adopted and the foundation of freedom and justice between nations are brought about."

Next Meeting Nov. 18
"The gulf between Russia and other nations is the last gulf blocking universal peace. When that gulf is crossed then there will be

Langer Accuses
Power Group
Of IntimidationIssues Blast After
$2 Million Suit
Filed Against Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman William Langer (R-N.D.) accused the Dixon-Yates private power group today of trying to intimidate a witness before the Senate Anti-Monopoly Subcommittee.

Langer said he would not stand for it. His angry outburst came after Arthur E. McLean, 62-year-old Little Rock, Ark., banker, said he had learned a two-million-dollar suit had been filed against him today.

McLean blasted Arkansas Power & Light Co. in his testimony Thursday.

Arkansas Power & Light is a subsidiary of Middle South Utilities, one of two firms allied for the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract. The contract has been approved by the Atomic Energy Commission but not yet signed.

In Little Rock, the utility firm today filed a two-million-dollar damage suit against McLean. The suit said that McLean had made "malicious, false and slanderous statements" damaging to the power company.

The suit made no mention of McLean's testimony before the Senate subcommittee. Testimony which McLean has given under oath before the subcommittee is privileged, that is—he can not be sued because of it in a civil court.

McLean Still a Witness

McLean returned to the witness stand today after former Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, blaming AP&L for his political downfall in 1952, said he thinks AP&L boosted power rates recently to pave the way for bigger returns in connection with the Dixon-Yates contract.

McLean said all he knew about the suit against him was that a reporter told him it had been filed in Little Rock. Langer erupted.

"This committee is not going to allow Dixon-Yates to intimidate any of its witnesses by bringing suit against anyone who did testify," Langer said. "As long as I'm chairman, I'm not going to be bluffed, scared, or intimidated, and I will not allow this Dixon-Yates crowd, no matter who is back of it, to bluff anyone."

Langer said he does not know what he can do about the suit.

Langer recessed the hearings until next Friday when he said the witness will be John R. Thompson, former member of the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

Firm Involved in Contract

The AP&L company is a subsidiary of Middle South Utilities, one of the firms involved in the proposed Dixon-Yates contract. President Eisenhower has ordered the government to sign the contract to buy private power for the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace power supplied by the TVA to the Atomic Energy Commission.

"This is a fight between the private power monopolies and the people of the United States," McMath said. "It is a fight the people can not afford to lose."

Langer (R-N.D.) said that in his battle against Dixon-Yates contract he's merely trying to keep President Eisenhower from getting involved in a national scandal.

"As a Republican I'm trying to do all I can to avoid it," Langer said as he appealed for the administration to make public details of the secret contract. "Honest public officials don't have any hidden contracts," he said.

Pentagon Eagerly Awaits Results of New Atomic Tests

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The next series of atomic tests, scheduled for mid-February, 1955, at the Nevada Proving Ground, should produce another major stride in U. S. atomic weapon development.

It could be the most spectacular continental series of tests yet conducted, with troops maneuvering within a mile of a blast, the firing of guided missiles with atomic warheads, the testing of atomic antiaircraft shells and the performance of A-weapons already in the arsenal.

All of these things are considered by the experts to be in the next logical progression of A-weapon development.

The wording of the Atomic Energy Commission's announcement of the test series makes it clear that no hydrogen bombs or thermonuclear devices will be exploded. It's obvious from recent tests in the Pacific that hydrogen bombs are too powerful to test in the U. S.

THE LIVE TESTING OF nuclear weapons and devices by the AEC, in cooperation with the Department of Defense and Federal Civil Defense Administration, has been one of the most successful phases of the whole atomic energy program. After almost every series there has been a minor revolution in the weapons system.

Some of the earlier tests were devoted to getting the maximum boom out of a bomb and finding out to use the scarce fissionable materials most efficiently. A whole series of blasts proved what were the most practical packages for atomic weapons.

All of this work has permitted the AEC weapons experts to reduce the size of A-weapons to where they could be dropped by every combat-type Air Force plane flying.

The successful firing of the atomic cannon during the last Nevada tests was the climax to earlier work, proving that you can wrap an atomic blast in a package about 11 inches in diameter and a few feet long.

In addition to the scientific information gained by the tests is the experience which the services have had in the handling of live A-bombs. In the Air Force, for instance, there is a large corps of men with actual experience in handling and dropping live A-bombs.

THE ARMY'S EXPERIENCE with maneuvers has been invaluable in demonstrating on the one hand that nuclear weapons are less fearful than at first imagined. But it has also shown the tactical experts the best offensive ways to employ nuclear weapons.

The Army now believes that it is safe to put troops in slit trenches within a mile of ground zero, and probably will do it. Two miles is the closest troops have been before, according to announcements.

FCDA participation has done most in alerting citizens to the real danger of atomic attack and the need to support a better civil defense program.

It is reported in the Pentagon that there will be a firing of either an Honest John or WAC Corporal guided missile with a live atomic warhead in the upcoming tests.

These two weapons have now been integrated into Army units in Europe.

There's not much question about being able to package an A-bomb in the nose of a missile, it having been done in an artillery shell. But the actual firing of a missile is far more complex than the shooting of a projectile out a cannon.

IF IT'S PROVED IN Nevada
next February that a tactical atomic missile can be launched and detonated successfully the nation is a major step toward the ultimate goal in this new weapons system field, which is a strategic intercontinental atomic missile.

The rumor that there might be an atomic aircraft shell tested hints of an equally significant development. If this is done successfully in February it means that America's defense against attack by swarms of Russian fighters is immensely strengthened.

The mere knowledge that the U.
S. possesses such an anti-aircraft weapon would be a major deterrent to a mass bomber attack on the U. S.

In the broad sense the Pentagon will be eagerly watching the next Nevada series, because results could mean further budget cuts if they show that the new family of A-weapons really do give a lot more bang for a buck.

The story revolves around the moment, answers an ad in the paper for a cook. "Annie," as she concerned. Naturally none of the Talmadges knows that "Annie" is she is simply a darling old lady who has endeared herself to the family by the wonderful manner in which

Dunn-Flaig Marriage Solemnized in Nuptial High Mass at St. Mary's

(Ronnie's Studio Photo)
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer William Flaig

At a nuptial high mass Saturday, Oct. 9, in St. Mary's Catholic church, Miss Marjorie Ann Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dunn, former residents of Harrisburg but now of Hutsonville, and Elmer William Flaig, Cincinnati, Ohio, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Flaig, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. T. G. Bruns.

The main altar was decorated with vases of white stalk and greenery flanked by seven taper candles against emerald trees. The white communion rail held a green flare at each end and was decorated with ivy streamers. Vases of blue stalk and greenery adorned the side altars.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white embroidered nylon tulle over satin with long sleeves tapering over the hand. The dress was fashioned with a shoulder cuff of satin at the bodice and a chapel length train. The short scalloped-edge veil was secured to white satin bands which formed a crown centered in front with pearl beads. She carried a crescent bouquet of white gladiolus and stephanotis with ivy streamers.

Miss Carla Ditrappano, Charleston, W. Va., former roommate of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Alice Rude, Logansport, Ind., was bridesmaid. The ladies were dressed identically in ballerina length gowns of ruby crystalline designed with a short fitted jacket and a bouffant skirt. They wore headbands of ruby crystalline trimmed with brilliant and carried bouquets of bronze fuji mums with ivy.

The bride's mother wore a navy silk taffeta with a deep V neckline threaded with navy velvet ribbon and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Julius Weierman, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in a teal blue taffeta with a pink tulle neckline and a pink gladiolus corsage. Her accessories were also pink.

A reception followed in the church hall. The reception table stood against a background of greenery covered trellis. Hostesses were Mrs. Victor Humm, Mrs. Dave Evans, and Mrs. John Molinarolo Jr., assisted by the members of St. Ann's altar society.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Country club for the bridal party, the families and out of town guests.

The bride has a B. S. degree from St. Mary of the Woods college and dietary internship at Good Samaritan hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio. She is employed as staff dietitian at the Cincinnati general hospital. The bridegroom attended Denison university where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He received a B. S. degree from Xavier university. He was 2nd Lt. in the United States Marine Corps in World War II and was a captain in the Korean war. At present he is sales representative of River Raisin Paper Co.

After a wedding trip the couple is now at home at 949 Ludlow Ave., Cincinnati 20, Ohio.

Old Art
JAMESTOWN, R. I. — (UP) — A colonial painting depicting the famous scene of William Penn signing a treaty with Indian chiefs has been discovered in a 17th century house. The painting was hidden beneath three layers of wallpaper in the Greene farm house built in 1672.

Republicans and Democrats Carry Campaign Fight Into Middle and Far West

WASHINGTON — Republican and Democratic campaigners carried the last-stage fight for control of Congress into the Middle and Far West today where many races may turn on power and farm issues.

Leading lights of both parties took the stump for a busy day of campaigning in five widely scattered states stretching from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Coast.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, moved into Montana to boost Rep. Wesley A. D'Ewart's bid to unseat veteran Democratic Sen. James E. Murray.

On the Democratic side, Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 presidential contender, invaded predominantly Republican Wisconsin for a speech at Milwaukee while Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, moved into Montana to boost Rep. Wesley A. D'Ewart's bid to unseat veteran Democratic Sen. James E. Murray.

Other speeches slated were scheduled by GOP Senate Leader William F. Knowland and Democratic Sen. Albert Gore (Tenn.) in California; Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) in Oklahoma and Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay in Missouri.

The Eisenhower administration's farm and power policies, both under heavy Democratic attack, are key campaign issues in many of the areas slated for heavy politicking today.

Former President Truman figured prominently — but in different ways — in separate speeches in his home town of Independence, Mo., Thursday night by Rayburn and John Roosevelt, youngest son of the man Mr. Truman succeeded in office.

Roosevelt, a leader of the citizens-for-Eisenhower movement, accused the "Truman-Acheson regime of hampering the Korean war and blamed Mr. Truman and former secretary of state Dean Acheson for a shortage of ammunition in that fighting.

"That war... which Mr. Truman likes to call a police action, has been called to a halt by the Eisenhower administration," said the son of the man Mr. Truman succeeded in office.

Navy Secretary To Give Decision On Dr. Condon

WASHINGTON (UP)—Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas today promised a quick decision on whether the government should deny defense secrets to Dr. Edward U. Condon, famed atomic scientist.

Out of "fairness" to Condon and because of the "importance" of the issues involved, Thomas said he will "personally follow through on the case to see that a decision is expedited."

A Defense Department security board last July granted Condon "limited" access to classified industrial security information. But Thomas suspended this Thursday afternoon pending a "complete" new review of the case.

Condon, director of research and development for the Corning Glass Co. in New York, said he had been fully cleared for secret data four times by four different boards and would be "pleased to be cleared a fifth time, confident that one more honest, objective review of my record can only lead to this result."

Condon's "limited" clearance last Tuesday, said it will continue to employ the scientist "pending the outcome" of the new security review.

As head of the National Bureau of Standards until August, 1951, Condon played a major role in the development of the atomic bomb and such secret World War II weapons as radar and the proximity fuse.

A report of the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1948 linked him "one of the weakest links in our atomic security" because of alleged connections with Communists and a Soviet spy.

Langer Defends Harriman in Charge by Ives

NEW YORK — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Averell Harriman's fight against GOP bribery charges has received an assist from the Republican head of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Aides of the former top-level diplomat were jubilant today over the assertion by Sen. William Langer (R-N. D.) that he investigated the bribery charge against Harriman three years ago and found it "entirely unsubstantiated."

The charge, leveled by Harriman's Republican opponent, Sen. Irving M. Ives, was blasted by Harriman himself Thursday night as an attempt to reduce the campaign to a "gutter fight."

Harriman called off a debate with Ives scheduled for next Wednesday because, a spokesman said, "Ives has turned to gutter fighting and sunk below the level of decency which should be maintained by one seeking high public office."

Harriman has denied "categorically" any knowledge of a bribe involving a shipping company he headed in the 1920s and reaffirmed his intention to campaign "on the issues."

He planned today to make a second swing through traditionally Republican upstate areas including Rochester and Buffalo.

Ives charged Harriman is unfit to handle the billion-dollar budget of the state on the grounds his

Policeman is Slain While Attempting to Arrest Escaped Convict

CHICAGO — A policeman who had killed three bandits and wounded four others in gun battles was killed late Thursday night as he tried to arrest an escaped convict.

Officer Charles Annerino, 30, was shot near the heart as he started to question Agostino (Cus) Amodeo, 26, in a North Side tavern.

Annerino died early today at Ravenswood Hospital, leaving a widow and two children.

Annerino had been promoted to the robbery detail only 30 days ago on the basis of his "aggressive" record.

He was assigned to hunt for Amodeo because he knew the hoodlum by sight. Amodeo escaped from the Criminal Courts Building June 28, using a gun his girl friend had smuggled to him. He had been charged with burglary.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith Arrives in Moscow

MOSCOW — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith arrived in Moscow today on a trip paid for out of her own purse.

The Maine Republican said over a cup of coffee at Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen's residence that she hoped to have a discussion with Premier Georgi Malenkov.

Mrs. Smith said she did not know whether she would be able to see Malenkov or Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov as the Soviet Embassy in Washington had told her to wait until she reached Moscow to apply for interviews.

shipping firm, the United American Lines, paid a $250,000 bribe in the 1920s to secure leases on New York City piers.

Chicago Post Asks Removal of Clamage From Legion Commission

CHICAGO — A Chicago American Legion post has asked the removal of Edward P. Clamage from his post as head of the state Legion's anti-subversive commission because of his attacks on Girl Scout literature.

The Chicago post said in a resolution Thursday that Clamage's activities have placed the state Legion in "too many ludicrous situations" and that it "has been subjected to severe criticism as a result of his press releases."

Agnes Argyle's eyes were cloudy with a review of the past, with a search for some point at which to begin. They brightened at last with decision. "You've seen the 'Carlson Conscience,' the framed relic. It wasn't in the glass case when I was a child. Not when Father was alive. He believed in that creed, inscribed now on the case, and he practiced it. He was a tyrant whose word was irrevocable law. And the slightest breach brought punishment."

Agnes licked her thin dry lips as if tasting the bitterness. Her strong hands clenched and unclenched, yet the monotone of her voice did not change, as her words provided a commentary on her mental pictures of the past.

"We had it well drummed into us that the only law was the Carlson word. Everyone has something, some power they feel they must answer to. With us it was the Carlson law, represented by my father at this time. Nothing higher, and no appeal."

"I started running away from home in my very early teens. Not with any hope of escape, but with desperation. I was caught and brought back. Father whipped me. I used to pray that he would die. Finally he did, and I thought things would be better. They were, in a way. Mother—Mrs. Oswald—never actually used the whip on us. She had it framed. We had been taught so well and the threat was enough. Most of the time. But when I was 17 I ran away again. I had planned well and I had help. Toby. My husband. We were married and I was pregnant by the time we were found. Mrs. Oswald washed her hands of me. But she told me I'd never break away completely, that I'd always remember my early training. I remembered."

"And then our little girl was born. Times were hard for us and Toby was sick. It wasn't his fault, it wasn't mine." She looked up at Jim then. "We came to terms with Mrs. Oswald, turned our baby over to her."

"Why?" Jim demanded.

"Many reasons," Agnes said. "They seemed to be good reasons then. I don't know. I think perhaps I would do the same thing under the same circumstances. Yet you're right. It isn't easy for a woman to give up her first child. But my brother Hilton had married by then, married with Mrs. Oswald's blessing. The baby, Angelica, was to be brought up as their own. She was to have all the benefits of the Carlson money. I thought my brother would be kind, thought he had suffered enough. And Toby needed an operation so desperately. Mrs. Oswald was right on hand with the money—provided. The alternative? Nothing. Nothing. Maybe she didn't mean it. Maybe she would have helped. I don't think so. And Angelica would have everything I realized Toby and I were never going to be able to give. I—I made the deal."

"I thought I was doing right at the time, and for a while, for almost 10 years, everything seemed to be working out. I thought I had done right, that my love for Toby and, yes, my actual fear of the Carlsons, had led me into doing the right thing. But after that 10 years, Mrs. Hilton had a son. That's Peter. Before, Angelica had been brought up as a true child, made over, maybe spoiled. Peter's birth made a difference."

The simple statement brought up a vivid picture of heartbreak.

"When did Angelica find out you

of Saline County

The wet and dry issue is not being voted on in the General Election Nov. 2, 1954. It is not an issue, but some ministers of Saline County, and their congregations have been misinformed, intentionally or otherwise, regarding my stand on this issue, and on law enforcement.

The Saline County Dry Association wrote my opponent, and myself, letters, during the Primary Election Campaign in the Spring. These letters wanted to know our stand on certain matters.

For your information, I would like to submit my letter to you.

(COPY OF MY LETTER TO THE SALINE COUNTY DRY ASSOCIATION)

April 1, 1954

Mrs. Esther Gall
Saline Dry Association
114 South McKinley Avenue
Harrisburg, Illinois

Dear Mrs. Gall:

I have your letter of March 24, 1954, concerning my stand on law enforcement should I be elected Sheriff of Saline County.

In reply thereto, I wish to state that when a Sheriff takes his office, he is required under the constitution and law of the State of Illinois, to take the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of Sheriff according to the best of my ability."

Should I be elected Sheriff of this County, I will take the above oath and I will, to the best of my ability, comply with that oath.

I believe in good government, clean men in office, and men who are not controlled by any group or clique.

A Sheriff should be a Sheriff for all the people of his county and he should enforce the law, as far as he is able to do so, whether it be for rape, murder, robbery, larceny, or whether it be for violating the liquor law or violating the law with reference to the operating of slot machines, or whether it be for violating the law against gambling, or gambling devices.

I believe in prosecution, but I do not believe in persecution.

It is my belief that the best indication of what a candidate's intention would be, should he be elected to office, could best be gathered from his conduct and dealings in his past life. My life is an open book for you to inspect, and I will welcome any investigation of me, and my life that you care to make.

I hope that I have answered the things which you wanted me to answer.

Thank you for the interest which you are taking in the present campaign, and hoping you can find in my record such a life that will cause you to render aid and support to me.

I am,

Yours very truly,

William T. "Wee" Barrett
Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

If my letter states the type of Law Enforcement you want, I would like you to tell your friends, and use your vote and influence for me in the General Election on Nov. 2, 1954.

Wisconsin and Ohio State Match Rose Bowl Hopes In Big Ten Headline Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin and Ohio State match Rose Bowl hopes Saturday at Columbus, Ohio. Their contest is the headliner of a four game Big Ten conference program which should reduce the battle for first place to no more than two teams. It was rated a "pick-it" affair.

Statistically, too, the game stacked up as even as Ohio State rates as the league's best offensive team and Wisconsin as the best defensive eleven, while the Buckeyes rate third on defense and Wisconsin third on offense.

The battle could settle into a contest between Wisconsin's running threat, Alan Ameche, who has averaged 100 yards per game against league foes, and Ohio State's passing, sparked by Dave Leggett, the league leader in total offense.

Ohio State, though, boasts a rough ground game too with Bobby Watkins the league leader with 266 yards rushing in three games, while Wisconsin's passers, Jim Miller and Jim Haluska, rank among the best in the league. Regardless of the outcome of the Ohio State-Wisconsin tussle, the winner of the Minnesota-Michigan clash also will be tied for the league lead.

Bull Dogs Out to Stop Leading Scorer Tonight

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs will be out to stop the leading scorer in southern Illinois prep football tonight when the Herrin Tigers come to town for a tilt at Taylor Field starting at 7:30.

He is Bill Lawrence, quite a runner, who has scored 44 points, only eight points less than the Bull Dog team has accumulated this year.

But Harrisburg has been a defensive team this year and has held some good runners to a minimum yardage and it will be up to Coach Lawrence Caluffetti's boys to do it again tonight.

Harrisburg is in a tie with Benton at present for second place in the South Seven standings, each with two wins and a loss. Herrin has one victory and two losses.

The conference standings:

Team	W	L
Centralia	3	0
Harrisburg	2	1
Benton	2	1
W. Frankfort	1	1
Herrin	1	1
Mt. Vernon	1	1
Marion	0	3

Three Oil Field Workers Are Electrocuted

OBLONG, Ill. (AP) — Three oil field workers were electrocuted Thursday when a 20-foot pipe they were cleaning touched a power line carrying 11,000 volts.

The dead were Victor Leggett, 54, Oblong, a field foreman for Tidewater Oil Co.; and Lester Coulter, 47, Oblong, and Nolan Philippe, 19, Robinson, employee of the Lohmann Rig Co., Grayville.

The men were laying a vacuum pipe line to a water flood project on a Tidewater lease three miles northwest of here. The bodies were found by two men who hauled pipe to the project.

Authorities said the men apparently set the pipe section on end to knock rust from it and it touched the power line.

Floyd Patterson Meets Gannon in 8-Rounder Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, fourth-ranking light heavyweight contender, makes his debut as a Madison Square Garden main-eventer tonight in an eight-round bout with Joe Gannon of Washington, D. C.

The nationally televised and broadcast fight will be limited to eight rounds because Patterson is only 19. The odds favor Patterson 4 to 1.

Patterson has won 16 of his 17 professional bouts, 10 by knockouts. Gannon, 27, has had 33 professional bouts, losing two.

Eldorado Eagles Play W. Frankfort Tonight in Annual Homecoming Tilt

The Eldorado Eagles, losers in their last two outings, meet West Frankfort tonight in the annual homecoming football game at Eldorado.

After getting off to a fast start, gaining victories in their first three games, the Eagles have fallen into a slump, losing to Benton and Carmi. However, both Benton and Carmi are rated with the better teams in southern Illinois and a loss to either school isn't a disgrace.

Tonight's opponent, West Frankfort, has had only a so-so season and last Friday was soundly trounced by Mt. Vernon, 21-0.

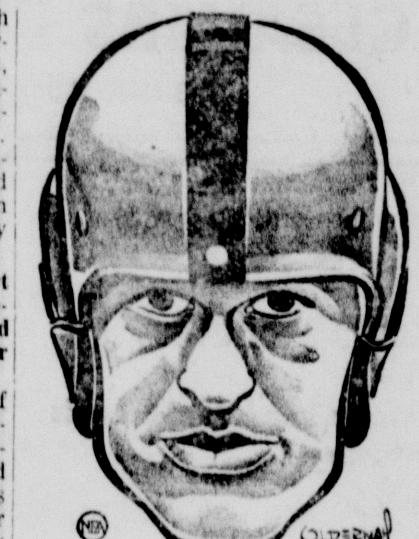

Frankfort opened the season with a 6-6 tie with Carbondale, then came a defeat at the hands of Johnston City 19-6. The next two games were victories for Frankfort, 25-13 over Effingham and 21-6 over Marion. Then last week's loss to Mt. Vernon, 21-0. Going into the Eldorado game, Frankfort has a record of two victories, two defeats and one tie.

An account of last week's Mt. Vernon-West Frankfort game reveals that a couple of pony backs carried Mt. Vernon to victory. The story reveals the little guys ran at will around the Frankfort ends.

Eldorado has a couple of pony backs that have the ability to do the same. Capt. Sutton and Acie Gwaltney have shown ability to move around the ends or off tackle, and coupled with the slashes through center by fullback Potts gives Eldorado a fine potential in the scoring department.

With the incentive of winning before a homecoming crowd, Eldorado will probably get back in the winning column tonight.

Ralph Chesnauskas, relli and guard Dick Allast, the finest players on the team.

The best "unknown" tackle in America is Wake Forest's Bob Bartholomew, who obliterated the Maryland running game and once, with South Carolina on the "D" one-yard line, first and goal to go, made four straight tackles to stop the score. Leo Nomellini of the San Francisco 49ers still insists that 60 minutes of grapping takes more out of him than 60 minutes of football. Hardin-Simmons quarterback Ken Ford is a brother of former Cowboy pilot John (Model-T) Ford. So they call this Ford Model-A.

Army could come up with a secret weapon for the Navy game in late November with the return of halfback Bob Kysky, up to now counted out for the season due to a broken collarbone sustained vs. South Carolina.

It was Yale's Albie Booth who inspired the "mousetrap" term a quarter of a century ago when a Dartmouth coach said, "The Elis use Albie like he was cheese for a trap—letting the defense charge through to nail him, then racking them up from the side before they reach the bait."

U. S. Launches New Look Policy In the Far East

TOKYO 17.—A "new look" in United States diplomacy has been launched in Asia and it is getting its first test in Korea where American officials are putting their foot down in a dispute with a friendly nation.

Reliable sources said the new attitude is that the United States does not mind being "Uncle Sam" or "Uncle Sugar" so long as it doesn't go on being called "Uncle Sucker."

As a first step, the United States has decided it will not be pushed around by the Koreans.

Gen. John E. Hull, American Far East commander, met with stubborn Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee in Seoul on Thursday. The top-level conference was designed to settle "once and for all" the trouble that has developed between the United States and the ROK government.

Exchange Rate Issue
The immediate issue is whether the United States is going to get a "realistic" exchange rate for its dollars in Korea or will be forced to buy Korean currency at a discriminatory rate.

But the bigger issue is whether the Americans and Koreans can work together and whether the Koreans will meet certain American requirements for granting about 700 million dollars in aid to the war torn nation.

Many diplomats believe this is part of a "more realistic" approach that the United States has been adopting in its dealings with friendly nations.

U. S. Conclusions Hinted
One Western diplomat told the United Press he believed, on the basis of what he had seen, that America has reached these conclusions:

1. The United States cannot be the world's leader and still win a popularity contest. Even America's best friends are likely to develop jealousies.

2. The United States has finally come to realize it cannot buy love and respect.

3. Americans have discovered they really need "cooperation" from their allies rather than "love and kisses."

4. The United States is tired of seeing its allies threaten to "go Communist" whenever more American aid is not forthcoming.

5. In the future, the American system will probably be to announce a goal and "invite" others to go along. Aid and support probably will be given to those who desire to cooperate but there will be no begging or pleading. Those who don't go along will be left to do the best they can on their own.

Typing Students At HTHS Address TB Ass'n Envelopes

Students enrolled in the advanced typing classes at HTHS, under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Parkhurst and Charles Ridenour, have been recently typing addresses on approximately 5,000 envelopes for the Saline County Tuberculosis association.

The addresses were of residents in Saline county and were typed on return envelopes to be sent to the residents for contributions to the TB Fund.

Approximately 5,000 envelopes were also sent to the Eldorado Township high school.

In another part of the HTHS Commerce department, students taking Business English are now getting the experience of working in downtown and various business offices.

Each six weeks the students change and go to different places to work.

At this time, the following students are working downtown: Jane Booten, Harrisburg Dairy; Jo Catheart, O. L. Woods; Marva Cole, Credit Bureau; Dixie Endsley, Attorney Lloyd H. Melton; Alice Ferrell, Relief office; Kenneth Gibson, Logan school; Frances Gooden, Seton's; Jane Hughes, McKinley school; Janet Landis, Barham-Green; Yvonne Lane, Kresge; Lila Lockaby, Housing Project; Lila Milligan, Skeags Electric; Joanne Mullinex, Christian church; Carol Sanderson, Craggs - DeVille; Doris Stein, march, Robertson and Ghent; Shirley Turner, Myrons; and Marilyn Werkmeister at Horace Mann school. Elaine Whiteside, Wanda Disney, Beverly Blackman, and Jeanne Lewis are working in the high school office.

Eight Members of HTHS Student Council Attend Carmi Meeting

Eight members of the HTHS Student Council, Georgianna Tanner, Judy Belt, Carolyn Herron, Joan Sright, Judy Franks, Mary Polance, Charles Polk, and Carroll Clark, recently attended a Student Council conference held at the Carmi Township high school.

The conference lasted from 5:30 to 8 p. m. during which part of the time the students attended group meetings, hearing discussions on "How Does the Student Council Get Its Money?" and "Social Relationships Between the Student Council and Teachers."

Following these meetings, the groups gathered for an assembly to nominate officers for next year's meeting. Mary Polance was nominated from Harrisburg for the office of vice president. The Student Council will attend another conference Oct. 23 at Woodrider, Illinois, at which time the officers will be elected.

The stars move, but they are so far away that it takes many years before these motions are easily apparent.

Church Women to Emphasize World Community Day with Helping Hand Gifts

"Light From the Lamp," a pageant, will be presented at the Presbyterian church on Friday, Nov. 5, by church women from eight local churches. This group is only one of the millions of church women who, convinced of their obligation to share with others less fortunate than themselves, are stretching helping hands across the world to share with those in need out of the abundance of America's good life.

High point of this sharing comes on World Community Day, observed annually on the first Friday of November, which will be Nov. 5 this year. Gifts include both money and vitally needed clothing, household linens and blankets. Gifts are to be brought to the program Friday evening as has been the custom for several years.

World Community Day is sponsored by United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. With programs planned around the theme "Building Lasting Peace," church women in thousands of communities will meet this year to pray for world peace and to dedicate their gifts.

In addition to their material gifts the women will bring special offerings for relief. A part of the money given this year will help Church World Service, another department of the National Council of Churches.
